Specification

Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

(Namely it is improper to have the word "invention" in the abstract.)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. For claims 2 and 3, the scope of the claims is unclear. Namely, it is unclear whether or not the tent is to be claimed in combination with the tent eve. In claim 1, only the tent eve is being claimed; however, in claims 2 and 3, the eve ends are positively claimed in relationship with the side walls on the tent itself.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 3-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lee. Lee teaches a tent eve (Figs. 4 and 5) comprising: a frame (112) with curved end portions (119, 118) and a cover (192). The eve will inherently reduce rainfall contact with adjacent tent sidewalls, provide additional shading to the tent from sun and prevent ultra-violet degradation of the tent side walls.

Claims 1, 2 and 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Holmer. Holmer teaches a tent eve (Fig. 1) comprising: a frame (44,51,52) with straight frame ends (52) and a cover (49). The eve will inherently reduce rainfall contact with adjacent tent sidewalls, provide additional shading to the tent from sun and prevent ultra-violet degradation of the tent side walls.
